FACTS ABOUT THE STATE CONVENTIONS.

The Elko Independent seems to think that the Silver papers are called upon to defend the State convention. The Independent has always claimed to be a Democratic paper though it supports the candidacy of Senator Stewart, in which it is doubtless right from the standpoint of a Silver Democrat as Stewart and Bryan are politically in accord on the financial question.

Why the Independent thinks the Silver convention requires any defense, except that it was a representative body, chosen by the people, while the other conventions were simply committees, it does not explain. However, for its edification the JOURNAL will state the following facts relative to the State conventions and it invites the Independent or any other paper to disprove any or all of them if it can be done:

First—The Silver State convention was composed of delegates elected by the people at primaries in which all citizens who favor the free coinage of silver were invited to participate.

Second—The delegates were representative men from all parts of the State, and in numbers exceeded all the other conventions combined.

Third—The Democratic convention, so called, was composed of men selected alternately by the respective leaders of the Dennis and Keating factions.

Fourth—That one of those factions favored fusion with the Silver men upon the terms proposed by the latter and that fusion was defeated on a viva voce vote because the faction that opposed it had more men in the convention than the other, and proxies did not count as they would had the ayes and noes been called for.

Fifth—That many of the men appointed as delegates declared that the convention was not a Democratic body as the people had no voice in electing the delegates, and that in their opinion it was run in the interest of the Republicans. These are facts susceptible of proof, and, if necessary, men who participated in the convention until fusion was defeated are prepared to substantiate them.

The course of the Independent indicates that the relief that the convention was run in the interest of the Republicans, though the leaders were too shrewd to let that be generally known, is well founded. It does not say a word against the Hananites, but endeavors to make it appear that the only State convention held in Nevada this year that was composed of representative men elected by the people, was controlled by corporations. Every disinterested person who knows the men who composed that convention and the manner in which they were elected, requires no evidence to convince him that the insinuation that they were under corporate influence, is as false as it is base.

Interest Rates Reduced.

The Bullion and Exchange Bank of Carson and the two Reno banks will reduce the rate of interest on time certificates of deposit from 4 to 3 per cent per annum, commencing October 1st, 1898. The banks find this action necessary, as they report a large increase in deposits and less demand for money.

THE WAR BALLOON'S FATE.

Experiences of Sergeant Boone, One of the Corps at Santiago.

A private letter received from Sergeant Thomas C. Boone of Company K, Second regiment, whose experiences in the war balloon ascension in front of Santiago on July 1 were told in a letter from him to the Springfield Republican, and who is now in the government hospital at West Tampa, Fla., gives for the first time the particulars and extent of his injuries. The surgeons at the hospital say that Mr. Boone's right kidney is turned around and that an operation is necessary to put it in place. Mr. Boone's letter in part says:

"I have not told you of my accidents before while in Cuba because I did not care to arouse the anxiety of my friends at home, and although I have been unable to walk for some time, still I did not consider my condition as serious as the surgeons here claim it to be. I will tell you how I got hurt. It was a streak of continuous bad luck. On the 1st day of July I went up in the balloon on the battlefield at 7 a. m., and the balloon was being moved all over the field when shot to pieces 80 yards from the Spanish line at 1 p. m. We thought our height, together with their bad marksmanship, afforded us protection. We were badly mistaken. At least 200 bullets and four shrapnel shots went through the inflating bag, allowing the gas to escape, and we came down with a rush, striking the top of a tree alongside a creek, throwing us out. In falling I was caught in the abdomen by a point of the anchor of the balloon, was suspended for a moment—it seemed a lifetime—then dropped into the creek, with the water up to my shoulders. I was badly bruised and shaken up, but owing to the excitement of the time I did not notice the pain.

"Three of our detachment were killed and four wounded out of 21 men, which shows that we were in a pretty warm place. Well, I did not go to the hospital about my injury until July 14, and I was then so weak I could scarcely walk. The surgeons at the field hospital placed me in an old army wagon without springs at 9 o'clock one night to be taken to another hospital seven miles away over the worst road in the world without doubt. We had gone about half a mile when the wagon turned completely over, the wagon body catching my neck under its side and the corner of a box catching me in the abdomen. I was unconscious for two hours. My neck is still very sore. When I regained consciousness, I was placed in the wagon, but the bumping over ruts and rocks fairly drove me mad, and I said I could not stand it. I was told that I could walk, which I did. The wagon went on. I reached the hospital at 7 o'clock the next morning after a night of agony. At this hospital I was told that I was injured internally and that they could do nothing for me, that I would have to go to the United States for an operation, and here I am."

Weather Report.

Following is the University meteorological report received from the U. S. Observer, San Francisco: Wednesday fair.

PASSED AWAY.

Honorable C. C. Powning, One of Reno's Most Prominent Citizens, No More.

After a long and painful illness, Hon. C. C. Powning passed away at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. For over a year and a half he has suffered intensely, yet was always hopeful that he would recover. Often during his illness his old-time energy and ambition to push Reno to the front would come to him and then he would plan in detail projects he proposed to further for the benefit of the town and State as soon as he was able. His active mind was constantly employed in working out some problem for the good of the people and his brave fight for health often gave those near and dear to him the hope that he would win the battle. But notwithstanding the constant and tireless attendance of a devoted wife and the best of medical aid, his malady slowly but surely crept upon him until he passed into that deep sleep that knows no waking.

C. O. Powning has been identified with Reno and her progress so long that he was a part of the town's structure. He was a pillar upon which much of Reno's progress in the past and success in the future rested. Coming to Reno in its earliest days, shortly after the rails of the Central Pacific had been laid through the valley, he became imbued with the idea that the location, climate and general advantages offered should make Reno the leading town of the State and one of the business and home centers of the West. He first secured employment on the JOURNAL and shortly afterwards became its proprietor and for over twenty years conducted its affairs. During all of this time the influence of the paper and his own efforts were devoted to the upbuilding of the town and to day one of its prettiest additions which now bears his name as well as several of the most imposing buildings in the business portion of the city, stand as monuments to his tact and energy as well as to his memory. His first effort in this direction was the Odd Fellows' building, now known as the Washoe County Bank building, then came the building on Virginia street known as the Powning building and this was followed by the Bank of Nevada building and the Investment Company's two buildings, he having conceived the idea of the Investment Stock Company and pushed these buildings to completion. He was always urging people to improve their property and thereby improve the appearance of this town. He was also instrumental in locating the State Asylum here and subsequently secured the removal of the State University from Elko to Reno. In every project he was an acknowledged leader and his own financial gain or success was always of secondary consideration. Thus he was a pillar which has now crumbled into dust and Reno will find it difficult to fill his place and the people must necessarily feel the great loss they have sustained. In public life, his ambitions were always high and although he had suffered disappointments he took them philosophically and waited for a future. He served Washoe county honorably in the State Senate and later was appointed United States Surveyor General, in which office he served for four years.

His voice and pen were always given free to his fellowman and a liberal hand was always extended for sweet charity's sake. As a friend he was loyal and zealous and it can be said that he helped many who have in the last few years been forgetful of his assistance. He was aggressive and brave for the public weal and feared no man in the cause of right and he was as tender hearted as a child where sympathy could heal the wounds of sorrow. His kindness made some poor fallen mortal feel that mankind was not all cruel. He was a member of several orders and always practiced the tenets taught by them as far as he was able and his interest in their affairs was never allowed to grow cold.

The voice that so many always loved to hear on occasions of public note is hushed, the lips are sealed to those who loved him best, the hand that was ever ready to grasp another in friendship or to shake hands with a friend is cold. His place is empty and his name is no more, but his good works remain to his memory.

Farewell, brother, no, not farewell, but goodbye, for you have only gone to prepare for the coming of those you have left temporarily behind. To the bereaved wife the JOURNAL force, nearly all whom have been intimately connected with the deceased, extends their most profound sympathy and to the funeral will take place under the auspices of Reno Lodge, F. and A. M., No. 12, tomorrow afternoon.

To the Officers and Members, Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias.

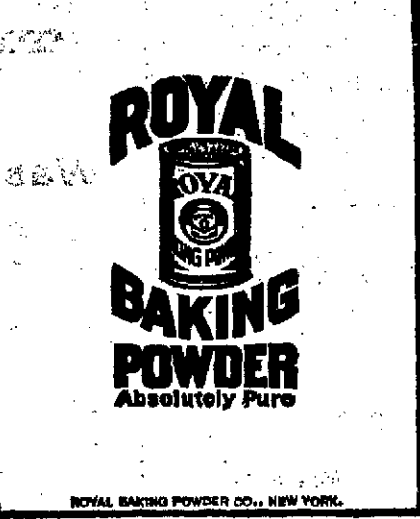

Officers and members of the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias are invited to meet with Amity Lodge No. 8, K. of P., at their Castle Hall Thursday at 1 o'clock for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, Past Grand Chancellor and Grand Supreme Representative, O. C. Powning.

S. J. HODEKINSON, Grand Chancellor.

The Silver-Democratic County Ticket.

The Silver-Democratic County Ticket will be found in another column and the JOURNAL will take occasion in a day or two to mention each candidate individually, setting forth his claims as well as his fitness for the office he is aspiring to. As a whole the ticket is composed of good men and there is no good reason why every man upon it should not be elected.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

CAMP OUBA LIBRE.

The Conditions of the Men and the Barren Treatment They Received.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 28, 1898.

EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL.—Dear Sir:

We, the members of Troop M, of the 2nd U. S. Volunteer Cavalry, hear with pleasure that the people of dear old Nevada are working in our behalf and doing all in their power to get us out of this hell hole and restore us our freedom.

I, a member of Troop M, desire through the medium of your paper to express my thanks to the people of Nevada for working so earnestly and untiringly in our behalf and I also wish to give the citizens of the state a slight pen picture of things and circumstances as they really exist in this camp.

The boys, on furlough, that many of you have seen passing through Reno to their homes, are good, happy, physically, of the average man in this command but not at all the men who appear to be nothing but skeletons, with the skin drawn tightly over the bones. You dear friends say, "What is the cause of all this?" It is this:

First: The very same dysentery, typhoid and other death-dealing microbes and other death-dealing microbes and other death-dealing microbes.

Second: The patients are not properly cared for after taking sick. They are not taken to the hospital, until it is often too late to keep the slight spark of life burning and, therefore, lay in the receiving wards without medicine for so long before being assigned to their proper wards, that they and their earthly journey, is made sad.

Last, but not least, the officers of this command, are many of them, receiving higher wages now than they ever did or expect to elsewhere and consequently try to make their job last regardless of the wishes of the more honest ones, under their power and of the deaths and wrecked constitutions, they are daily causing by their greed and dishonesty with the officials at Washington, D. C.

I, without fear of mistake, will take the liberty to say there are not a half a dozen commissioned officers in this command, who would fight for 20 cts Cuba, under the existing circumstances, if it were not for the hands of some of these boys.

In the present volunteer force of these United States, there are men and plenty of them, who are receiving better wages than they could outside of the army and who would be willing to go to Cuba and fight for 20 cts. These men were not in the army when they were first called to the colors and consequently are not affected by the ravages of diseases occasioned by the impure air of these warm countries.

When our country called for volunteers to wipe the Spanish invaders from Cuba did we hesitate? No. We came forward at the first call and laughed with impunity at the idea of "yellow fever" and "cholera" diseases. When we left Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., we thought it was to come here to Florida and embark almost immediately on the transports for Cuba and I speak truthfully when I say that I never saw a happier body of men than we were at that time. We were certainly disappointed when we found we were not to go to Cuba, but we were not to be discouraged by the fact.

Who dares say there is more patriotism among the officers than among the rank and file? I know of several instances among the officers of this command, where they would have refused to come if they had not received commissions. Now these same officers are the means of keeping us here through misrepresentation, of the death-dealing facts, while they line their pockets with gold and sport their stripes before admiring feminine eyes. Now the question is, will a free government and a liberty-loving people, allow such a thing to go on unheeded in their midst?

In the hospital the patients do not receive proper care, for instance, I knew of a man being kept in the dead tent as dead. He laid there for seven hours, while a steward happened to pass through and found him alive. The man is still listed with the living. In another instance a man died, not in the regiment, but in the division, of the 7th corps. His body was left to rot in the hospital and he was not sent home. His body was sent home with a bill of $51 for embalming expenses and instructions not to open the coffin, as he had died of a contagious disease. Regardless of this, the casket was opened and the body was placed in a wide berth.

black and nude of clothes, except for an undershirt.

One thing more I wish to speak of: the review and inspection of the War Alger gave this regiment and the third division of the seventh corps.

We, the 2nd Cavalry, sent what men were able to go to the review. Alger when he arrived in the City of Jacksonville, he had to make several inquiries about the 2nd Cavalry, and he knew who we were.

When the command of the 2nd Cavalry was coming to review us and to inspect our camp, instead of leaving things as they were, at other times, they spent nearly a whole day straightening up the camp. But this was not all, they went to the doctors and told them to "pull all day long" they possibly could for duty. The doctor did so. The effect was that they had a good health report, but Alger had to give them the power to force men to march in review or go to the guard house.

The doctors, they make the men for duty, as to make it appear as though this is a healthy camp. By the time Alger got around to review this regiment, it was so dark one could scarcely see all, but the review went on just the same. By forcing men to march in review, it was all to get out to help make a showing, the officers were only able to turn out with two hundred and eighty-five enlisted men, out of 11 thousand.

For review. The Secretary did not inspect the camp of this regiment at all and he was heard to say, at the camp that "some of the infantry regiments" did well but that "our boys" did fine.

In this hasty description of things and circumstances as they really exist in camp Ouba Libre, I have endeavored to lay bare to the public a few facts heretofore hidden from our officers and to any one who may be credulous as to the truthfulness of my statements, I refer them to the boys now home on sick furloughs.

Again, thanking the people of the state of Nevada for their kind advances in our behalf and knowing they will keep up a continuation of them, I remain a true son of Nevada and a member of Troop M, 2nd U. S. Volunteer Cavalry.

One Man Killed and Four Others Injured At Lathrop's Mill. Yesterday morning at 7:20 o'clock, the boiler at Lathrop's mill, Dog Valley, exploded, totally destroying the mill and killing Joseph Sherlock, the engineer, and seriously injuring an aged man named Merrill and Jim Williams, Mr. Powers and Jack Smith. Dr. P. E. Phillips was called by telegraph to attend the wounded. He drove to Verdi and spent the day attending the sufferings of the unfortunate men. He thinks that Merrill may die, but the others will recover.

The accident was caused by the engineer pumping cold water into the hot boiler. The mill was situated five miles from Verdi and was owned by Lathrop and Lea of Washoe County. The coroner of Sierra County, California, was notified of the death of Engineer Sherlock and will doubtless hold an inquest on the body.

The circus, and various other amusements, arrived yesterday and today to celebrate the occasion of its visit was turned into a holiday. The parade in the morning was very creditable and the streets were lined with people to view the pageant. The number of visitors from the country and surrounding towns was very large, some of the country folk coming as far as sixty miles to take in the show.

The afternoon and evening performances were about the same but were good and the audiences generally were pleased. The usual clowns, balloon man, jugglers, acrobats and lionade men were conspicuous and the speller for the "Grand concert immediately after the show" was in evidence.

In fact it was a circus and nearly every body went and would probably go again if it came next week. Now to look upon Good looks are really more than skin deep. Depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver is inactive, you have a bilious look. If your stomach is disordered, you have a dyspeptic look. If your kidneys are affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health, and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bile Beans" is a good alternative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at S. J. All members of Amity Lodge No. 3, K. of P., are requested to meet at Castle Hall Thursday at 1 o'clock p.m. to attend the funeral of our late brother O. C. Powning.
